

9. PASSIA DESK DIARY

Every year since 1988, PASSIA has published its “Diary”, which continues to follow its original aims and goals, i.e., to provide a comprehensive directory of contact information for relevant organizations operating in the West Bank and Gaza – listing names, addresses, main activities – combined with a full day-to-day planner (calendar) of the respective year and a comprehensive compilation of events and statistics related to Palestine and the Palestinians.

The PASSIA Desk Diary is annually updated – entries are added, changed or removed and new addresses and information are included. PASSIA is very proud to say that its diary has become an invaluable source of information for many people, both locally and abroad, and as yet there is no equivalent publication in Palestine.

Contents

As in previous years, the 2009 and 2010 editions of the PASSIA Desk Diary included updated and new addresses, a comprehensive calendar, and information and statistics on relevant events and issues, as they became available throughout the preceding years.

The 2009 edition contained 456 pages and was dedicated to the occasion of “Al-Quds – Capital of Arab Culture 2009,” with educational textboxes on “The Heritage of Arab Culture” spread throughout the diary’s calendar section. Furthermore, the diary included selected paintings of Jerusalem by Sliman Mansour as well as poems by Palestinian and Arab writers, and photographs depicting snapshots of Jerusalem’s religious, historical and architectural legacy.

The 2010 edition contained 448 pages. The calendar section included textboxes with informational material on the Palestinian Liberation organization (“The Making of the PLO”) – its background, beginnings, evolution, structure, leaders and present status. The final section of the diary contains some paintings on Jerusalem by the Palestinian Jerusalemite artist Taleb Dweik.
